

All Types

Inadequate Ground Clearance

One of the first risk factors your termite specialist will look for is clearance between the ground and your siding.